MRS. J. TAYLOR ELLYSON, who has been spending a month at The Manse, Hot Springs, Va., leaves on Friday of this week for Glen Cottage, Craigsville, Va., the home of her sister, Mrs. H. Jordan. Miss Betty Elyson and Mrs. Elyson's grandson, J. Taylor Elyson Crump, are awaiting her arrival at Glen Cottage, having left here on August 8 for that place. Mrs. Elyson attended tea, dinners and luncheons given at the Hot during the Bar Association, and was a guest at an at fresco entertainment given by Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, of this city, in honor of Mrs. Lorton, wife of Justice Lorton. Tables set on the casino lawn were beautifully decorated, and among Richmond people asked to meet Mrs. Lorton were: Mrs. C. E. Worthington, Mrs. D. A. Axtell, Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, Mrs. George Cole Scott, Miss Bell Perkins, Miss Eleanor Alcock, Miss Emma Carrington and General William R. Cox.

Mrs. Elyson's hosts at The Manse was Mrs. Tallafiero and Mrs. Tallafiero's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Tallafiero, a great-granddaughter of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Mrs. Henry Bohmer, of Edgewater Park, near Philadelphia, formerly Miss Pinks Lyons, of Virginia, a sister of Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, is at The Manse for August.

At Eldon, near Chatham, Senator and Mrs. Swanson are kept busy answering letters of congratulation regarding the recent appointment of the former Governor.

Home Wedding.
A quiet home wedding was celebrated yesterday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Krizer, 510 Randolph Street, when their daughter, Anne Elizabeth, was given in marriage to Emmet Thomas Duke, Rev. W. C. Robinson, of Randolph Street Baptist Church, pastor of the bride, officiating. The bride wore a tan traveling costume matched by a tan hat and gloves, and carried Bride roses. The ceremony was witnessed by the families of the contracting parties, and immediately afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Duke left for an indefinite stay in the Catskill Mountains.

The bride is widely and popularly known. Her husband is the son of Thomas H. Duke and a junior member of his father's business firm.

Women's Club Notes.
Mrs. Christopher Tompkins, president of the Woman's Club, and the Misses Tompkins are among the contingent who have remained in Richmond, where, though the days have been warm, the nights proved delightful, and there has been much charming social life going on at the country clubs, the Westmoreland and the Commonwealth, to say nothing of the motor car parties that have rounded out so many days for young people.

Miss Jane Rutherford is at Montreat with a large contingent of Richmond friends. Mrs. Arthur J. Jeffery, like Mrs. Tompkins is spending the summer in Richmond.

Miss Claire Gulllaume has been at Sandy Springs, Md., and the guest of Mrs. Virginia Newton and Mrs. Barksdale, near Baltimore, since leaving town. She will spend some weeks on the Main coast before she comes home.

Richmonders at Country Homes.
August is a month for much merry-making in the country homes thrown open by Richmond people who are enjoying them. Any house parties are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Scott at Royal Grohnd, near Atton; by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. G. Leight at Seaboard; by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, at Rockland, in Orange county; by Mrs. Sue Williams Buek, at Rose Hill, Albemarle county; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hotchkiss, at Meridene, University of Virginia; by Miss L. C. Williams, at Virginia Manor, Greenlee, Va.; and by Mrs. L. R. DeShell, at her cottage on Lake George, New York.

Will Return This Autumn.
Miss Ada Gray, who has spent the past year with her sister, Mrs. Charles Todman, of Sydney, Australia, sailing with Mrs. Todman from Vancouver last December, is expected to sail from Australia in the company of friends for the United States and Richmond, early this autumn. After getting home, Miss Gray will be with her brother, Clarence Gray, at 201 East Franklin Street. She has been enjoying a delightful visit to Australia and has been much entertained by her sister's friends during her stay.

Guests at Richmond Hall.
Miss Helen F. Barnes and Miss Ella Agnew, of the National Young Woman's Christian Association, will be guests at the Y. W. C. A. Country Club, Richmond Hall, Glinter Park, this evening.

Miss Barnes will speak at 8:30, and all friends of the association are cordially invited. There is not a more popular or attractive speaker in the association field to-day than Miss Agnew, of Farmville, and her successful efforts in turning the attention of young Virginia women to poultry raising and the proper cultivation of the tomato are already making her well known.

In and Out of Town.
Mrs. Adolphus Blair is spending the month of August at Atlantic City. Master Drewry Blair is with his grandparents, Major and Mrs. Clay Drewry, at the Brunswick Inn, Waynesboro, Va.

MANY ASPIRANTS FOR NOMINATION
Prominent Republicans Would Like to Succeed Brownlow.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bristol, Va., August 10.—There are some aspirants for nomination among the friends of the late Congressman, Walter P. Brownlow, of the First Tennessee District, who hope to be nominated to succeed him that even the executive committee find difficulty to sum up courage to have a meeting.

The chairman, A. L. Shipley, has been in conference time and again with prominent members of the party, but as yet no call has been issued. It is said that nothing will now be done until after the Republican State convention, which meets at Nashville next Tuesday. Prominent among the men who were closely allied with the Brownlow faction, who would like to receive the nomination are Dallen Cooper Swann, a wealthy mine owner of Claiborne county; Joseph W. Howard, postmaster at Greeneville; A. L. Shipley, of Jonesboro, district chairman; Grant Jarvis, of Rogersville, who holds a position in Washington; W. D. Kenner, of Rogersville; W. B. Bachman, of Blount city; and Ben Hooper, of Newport.

But these men have to come to some agreement whereby all will be eliminated except one, or they will find the Brownlow faction defeated in its purpose, and State Senator Sam R. Sells, of Johnson City, the only anti-Brownlow candidate, victorious. It is being surmised that the committee, which is made up of Brownlow men, will name a man to succeed the late Mr. Brownlow without submitting the matter to the voters, but the general sentiment demands a primary, and in the event the committee makes a nomination it is certain to produce a storm.

BECOMES A BRIDE

MISS WILLIE YATES MOFFETT, who was married last night at Salem to J. Frank Jones, of Washington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Salem, Va., August 10.—A brilliant wedding was celebrated at 8 o'clock this evening in the Salem Baptist Church, when Miss Willie Gates Moffett, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Moffett, became the bride of J. Frank Jones, of Washington. Rev. Charles T. Hendon, D. D., the bride's pastor, assisted by Rev. F. H. Martin, D. D., of Charlottesville, officiated. The ring ceremony was used. The ring belonged to the grandmother of the bride, in her father's family.

The church decorations were beautiful, the color scheme of white and green being carried out in cut flowers and potted plants. Miss Lulu Clarke presided at the organ. Prior to the ceremony Miss Maggie Franz sang "Believe Me If All Those Dreaming Young Chums." The ushers and groomsmen were Henry Wood, of Victoria; James Fletcher, of Woodville; Carroll Menefee, of Sperryville; Dudley Wood, of Benvenue; Daniel Moffett, of Union Springs, Ala., and John Moffett, of Salem.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Moffett, maid of honor, and the groom by his best man, J. Fulloss Jones, of Markham. The bridesmaids were Misses Ethelyn Crabtree and Nellie Oakley, of Salem; Lillie Jones, of Huntsville, Texas; Sallie Long, of Dallas, Texas; Delia Dudley, of Washington, and Hill Carter, of Washington. The bride's gown was a lovely creation of white messaline, en traine. Her veil was held in place by a spray of lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses. The maid of honor wore a pretty gown of white chiffon and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were attired in white costumes, carrying pink sweet peas, tied with pink tulle. The ribbon bearers wore lovely white frocks. They were Misses Lois Moffett, Martha Corbett, Doratha White-searver and Elizabeth CLOPTON.

A reception at the residence of the bride's parents, on Baptist Heights, followed the ceremony, which was given in honor of the bridal party and out-of-town guests. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the midnight train for a Northern tour, including Niagara Falls, New York, and other points, after which they will reside in Rappahannock.

that he shall be the nominee of the Democratic party, or, in other words, hold on to the nomination which he already has, as they feel that such a course cannot result otherwise than in the election of a Republican Governor. According to statements made by Hon. B. A. Enloe and others, Tennessee had not had a fair election in thirteen years until the recent election. The Governor cannot now control the election through the commissioners if he desired to do so.

SEEKS ENFORCEMENT OF STATE FIRE LAW

Deputy Commissioner of Insurance Reports Much Progress—Suit for $35,000 Compromised for $1,750.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., August 10.—Deputy Commissioner of Insurance A. Scott has returned from Jefferson, Ashe county, where he succeeded in having two young white men, Vance and Quincy Dollar, bound over to the Superior Court on the charge of maliciously setting fire to and destroying the grist mill of James Warren because they had a grudge against him.

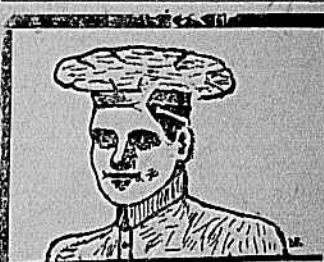

Deputy Commissioner Scott spends practically all his time traveling through the State looking after the enforcement of the fire and fire waste laws, and the survey and observance of all these laws is improving all the time, with good prospects for yielding an additional benefit to the people before a great while in the lowering of the fire insurance rates.

Here to-day is a meeting of the directors of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company were J. C. Braswell, Rocky Mount; W. I. Everett, Rockingham; H. C. McQueen, Wilmington; George A. Holderness, Tarboro; W. M. Sanders, Smithfield; J. O. Ellington, Fayetteville.

Siler C. Carroll, against the Zebulon Cotton Oil Company, this county, for $35,000 for injuries while at work in the mill, has just been compromised for $1,750. Siler Carroll had his arm torn off at the elbow in a gin, and claimed that he was ordered to pass too close to the gin by the superintendent, so that his arm was caught in the teeth of the gin.

Hon. R. L. Doughton, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Eighth District, against Congressman Cowles, Republican, while in the city last evening declared Democracy in good fighting trim in his district, and expressed confidence of a good big Democratic victory in November.
